Samurai T-Case Core Checklist

All core returns will be disassembled, cleaned, and evaluated for reuse in subsequent rebuilds. Our rebuilds are of the highest quality in the industry; therefore, the parts used in these subsequent rebuilds must be in rebuildable condition. If all the parts in a core return are reusable the customer will receive the full $350 core credit. However, if any parts are not reusable, we will deduct the value of that part from the core deposit based on the chart below. We will never deduct more than $350 from any core deposit.

Notice: If the returned core transfer case has major wear throughout, it is possible there could be zero core credit returned to the customer, even if some of the parts are still good. The reason for this possible zero core return is that the cost to replace the non-reusable parts can easily exceed the initial $350 core deposit.
